

Generation 3

Daniel DeMott/Dimmitt/Dimmock/ Ward was born 1804 in Bedeque, Lot 26, or Tryon Lot 28, Prince Edward Island, Canada. PEI's length through the center of the island is about 140 miles and breadth in the widest part, 34 miles. It is separated from N.S. by the Strait of Northumberland, which is only 9 miles broad between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine. Cabot named it Isle Saint John. It became Prince Edward Island in 1799.

His parents were Ebenezer Ward and Margaret Clark. Margaret was the daughter of John & Dorothy Clarke who came with Samuel Holland to survey PEI in 1764. Daniel had a sister, Phoebe Clark Ward, who married William Weeks in PEI. They emigrated to Linn Co., IA in 1854 by wagon through Detroit, Michigan with their family of 6 daughters, Margaret, Mary, Hannah, Louise, Amelia, Sarah, and 2 sons, Joseph & William. Phoebe died 1 Feb 1873 in Linn County and is buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Delaware County Iowa, USA. There might be two more siblings, John R. Ward and Ebenezer Jr. Records weren't required to be kept other than church or town or a mention in the newspaper.

Nothing is known about Daniel until he married his first wife, Margaret Full, in Yarmouth, N.S.

Daniel and Margaret were married Thurs., 12 Nov. 1835 at Yarmouth by Rev. Mr. Burton.

At Yarmouth, on the 12th inst. By the Rev. Mr. Burton, Mr. Daniel Ward, to Miss Margaret Fel, at this place.

This is the 1827 Yarmouth census. Manassa also had a son, Manassa b. 1789 so I hope I have the right Manassa. This Manassa could be either the father with few children left at home or the son with a few children. Mary Cook Hatfield could have been the female married in that year. She had a known daughter in 1830.

I wish it said exactly where they lived and where they were married. The church wouldn't allow a photo copy. I'd like to see their signatures.

Francis C. Ward, born in London, Canada, Dec. 25, 1844,

FIFTIETH ILLINOIS INFANTRY. 525

during the temporary residence of his parents at that place, having moved from New York a short time previously. At the age of two removed to Port Huron, Mich., and in 1856 moved to Quincy, Ill., thence to Ralls county, Mo., in 1857. Here for four years he heard the doctrine of secession advocated and taught, and in 1861 saw it materialize into open rebellion. His father being a great lover of the Union, taught his family reverence for the flag and was for these reasons obliged to seek an asylum elsewhere, moving to Payson, in Dec. '61. Residing at the latter place until October '63, the subject of this sketch enlisted, joining the company at Corinth. Was continuously with the company in all its movements from time of joining until mustered out, July 13, '65, and was selected as one of the History Committee. Can be seen in the Group.

Daniel and Harriet lived in New York for a short time and then London, Adelaide Twp., Western Co., Canada where Francis Cook Ward was born Christmas Day 1844.

Francis married Marcella Genevra Hall and had Cornelia, Walter, Bertha and Mary.

In 1846 Sarah Ann was born in Canada, probably Adelaide or Brooke Township, London County, Canada West (later Ontario). I haven't found her baptism. She married Alexander Rollo

Dec. 1865 and died March 7, 1873 leaving 4 sons, Alexander Robert, Charles William, James Malcom, and John Edgar. Alexander died 1877 and his sister, Rose, took the boys to raise.

CANADA WEST: DISTRICTS, COUNTIES & TOWNSHIPS OF 1846

Note that in 1842 Upper and Lower Canada united to form the Province of Canada. Upper Canada (present-day Ontario) became known as Canada West while Lower Canada (present day Quebec) became known as Canada East.

For more information on boundary changes and name changes in present day Ontario, please go to my History & Timeline pages.

Canada West was divided into twenty districts, which are then subdivided into counties, ridings and townships. The districts varied greatly in size, with the Western District containing 29 townships and the Prince Edward District containing 6.

As large districts were settled, and populations grew, smaller districts were formed from one large one. Colborne District was formed from Newcastle District; Simcoe District was formed from Home District and Huron District was formed from London District.

Townships also varied in size, with some as large as 90,000 acres and others as small as 20,000. Most townships were laid out in square blocks but some were not - and their divisions are beyond description. The townships are divided into concessions, generally running east to west, and north to south. However when a river ran through a township, the lots were laid out to face the river, no matter what direction that was. Concessions were generally divided into lots of 200 acres each, and half lots of 100 acres each.

Almost half the surveyed lands of Upper Canada were purchased after 1818 from native tribes.

Mary Louise was the last child born in Canada; Scotland Twp., Ontario Jan. 26, 1856. She married Edward Sullivan. Their children were "Bessie" Elizabeth, Alexander Breckenridge, Minnie, Harriet Ward, Edward Lane.

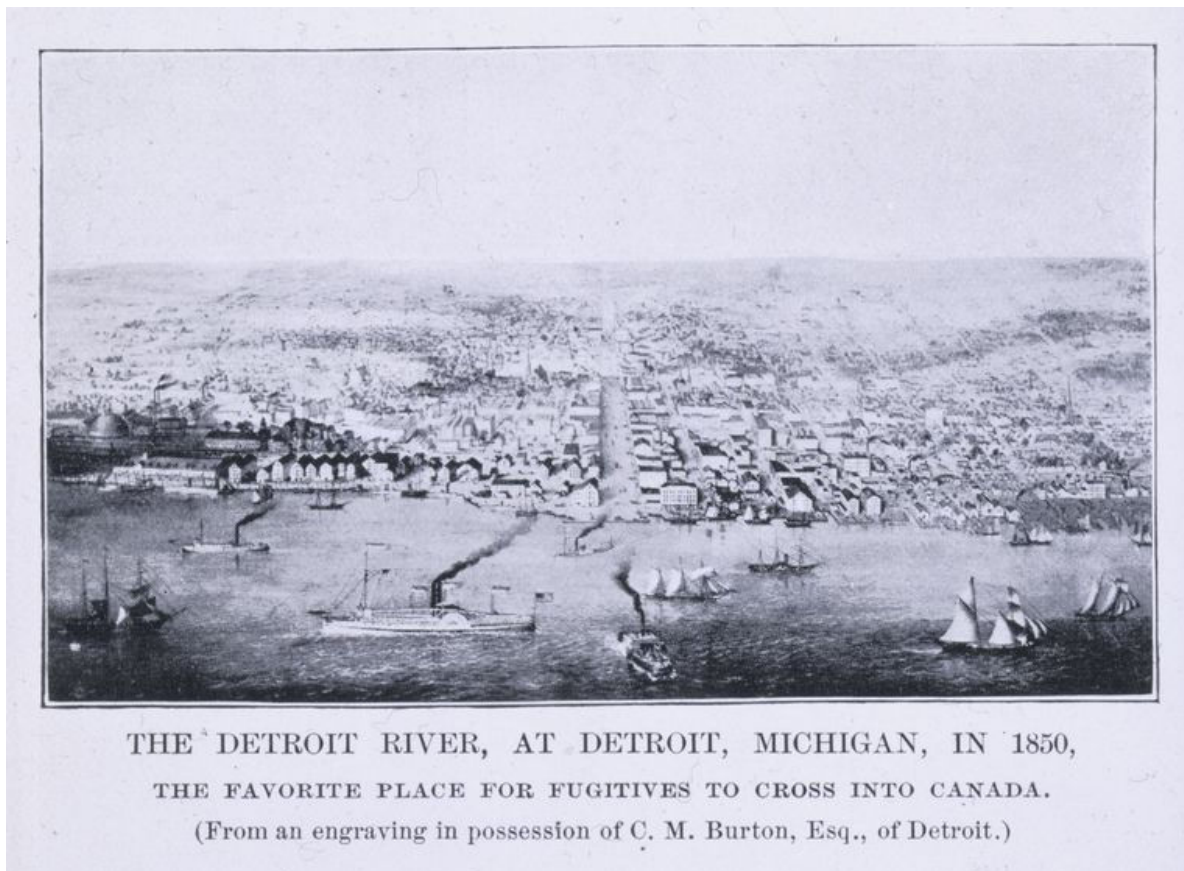

The only reason I can think of for all the moving around is Daniel's work as a carpenter/ship carpenter but there isn't a real water way for ship building in London Twp. The Thames River is there so maybe they lived close enough to the river for Daniel to work on ships. He says he's a farmer or carpenter on every census. Maybe he is just a carpenter.

1850 they were living in Port Huron, Michigan. Daniel, 45, Carpenter was born Prince Edward Island, Harriet, Nova Scotia. Harriet was 28. Their route to Illinois no doubt through Detroit, Michigan. Probably by water as much as possible. The rail road was just getting to the places they were so maybe they went by rail at times.

Phoebe Clark Ward Weeks, Daniel's sister, came through this way in a covered wagon in 1854. See Phoebe's story at the end of this chapter.

I don't know what route Daniel or Phoebe would have traveled. These roads weren't there!

The family was living in Quincy, Adams County, Illinois when John Redding was born in 1858. John married Annie Belle Olson and 2nd Sarah Hermann. John and Sarah had Mildred 1860 Spencer Twp., Ralls Co., MO. Daniel, 55, farmer, value of real estate $500, personal $250. Harriet, 39 Charles D Ward 19, Margaret H (should be E) Ward 17, Francis C Ward 15, Sarah A Ward 13, Henry A Ward 11, Harriet N Ward 10, Rosaman Ward 8, William C Ward 6, Mary L Ward 2, John R Ward 2, Albert L Ward 5/12.

They were already in Spencer Twp., Ralls County, Missouri when Albert Lafayette Ward was born Dec. 7, 1859. His age given as 5/12 in July 1860 makes this birth date in Dec. 1859 questionable. Edgar Young Ward wasn't born until Sept. of 1860 but died 1863 in Payson, Illinois. Harriet delivered a still born baby in Payson in 1861.

Daniel's anti slavery views made them unwelcome in Missouri and they were "encouraged" to leave there, possibly by "Bushwhackers". Family lore says they were visited one night, Daniel had a noose around his neck and Harriet begged for his life. They left Missouri the same night. True? Possibly.

Who were the Bushwhackers?

By KELLY BRADHAM
Sports Editor

Just who were these people that have come to be known as Bushwhackers?

A lot has been written about the Jayhawkers from across the border, but as is usually the case, the victors write the history books and the cause for which the Bushwhackers devoted their efforts has been given scant notice in the annals except to be called murderers and thieves.

History of Vernon County, Missouri, published by Brown (no author was listed in the book) in 1887, tells just who these Bushwhackers were and what they did.

According to Brown, "The year 1861 closed in Vernon County with things in bad condition and troublous times impending. The county was ranged through at times by scouting parties of Kansas troops and Confederate partisans. The headquarters of the former were at Fort Scott; of the latter, in the brush.

A desire for an irregular military life possessed many of the Confederates. The restraints of a disciplined army were not to their liking. They preferred to remain at or near their homes, to live, even in the woods and brush, without work, and subsist themselves upon their neighbors and friends, rather than go to the regular Confederate army and share its experience and destiny.

"At home they knew the country, and this knowledge was of advantage to them in many ways. By keeping in small bands, they could move from place to place swiftly and secretly, or they could remain in a secluded camp a considerable period without attracting attention. They need not fight unless they desired, and they might always be the victors if they wished; if they encountered a force they could not whip, they could run away from it. There were fine opportunities too, for foraging upon the enemy. Horses and other property were to be had

Harriet delivered a stillborn son in Payson, Adams Co., Illinois and died Dec. 1861.

Charles DeWolfe enlisted in the Union Army 20 Sept. 1861. Francis enlisted Oct. 1863. The family started to fall apart without Harriet. Before 1870 the oldest had married and left home and the remaining children were scattered. Where were Daniel's and Harriet's family? Why didn't they step up and take the children? Maybe they lost touch with all the moving around. Or maybe Daniel had no family left. Harriet was the youngest so all her siblings would have been aging and maybe not able to care for young children even if the children were split up among several families. It may be that Phoebe did take Rosamond who married in 1868, Harriet who was in Missouri in 1870 or Mollie who perhaps went to the Orphan's home before Phoebe died in 1873 and Albert. Albert enumerated in other census as farm labor would be about right for a boy of 12 or more years in that time.

The researcher at the Methodist church archives thought Harriet was literate from her nicely written signature on the marriage license. Did she write to her family after she left Nova Scotia? Did they know where Harriet was? Did they know she had died?

1865 census: One Male 10-20 could have been Henry Allen, One Female 10-20 could have been Harriet, One Female 20-30 probably was not Sarah Ann or Rosamond ? Margaret is the only one of the right age but I thought she had married Alexander Porter by about 1860. I need to find her., One Male 50-60 was Daniel.

Harriet Newell COOKE Ward
 Mrs. Daniel Dimmitt Ward
 (taken just before her death-1861)

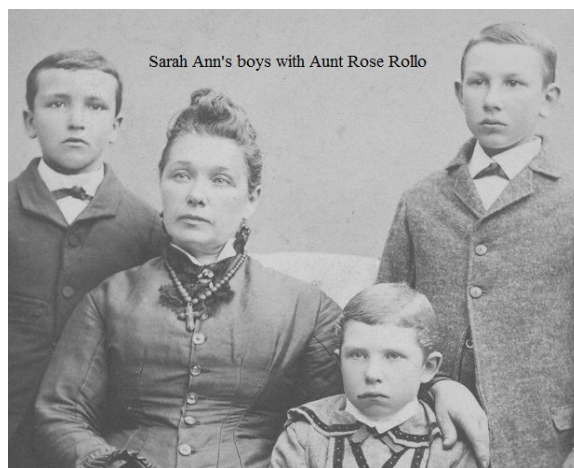

I think this picture of Harriet was taken after she died. They did that. In this picture does Daniel look like his sons? Maybe it's not Daniel.

Through the generosity of cousins I have these pictures of Daniel and Harriet's kids.

John Redding Ward 1858–1935

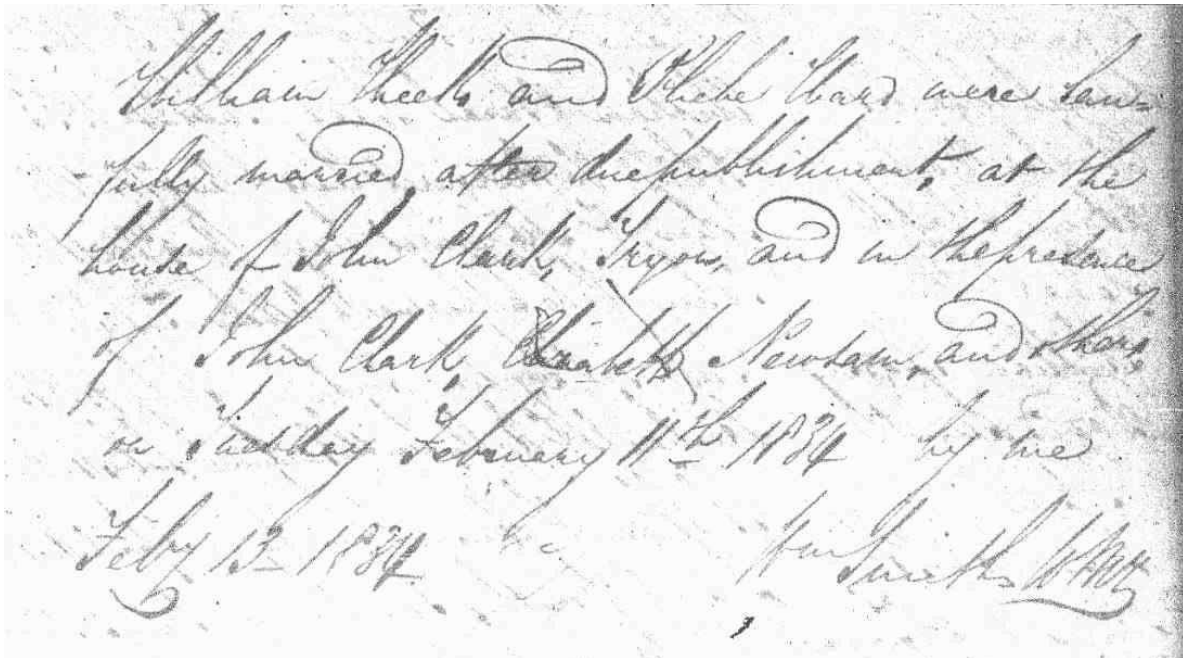

Albert Lafayette Ward 1859–1937

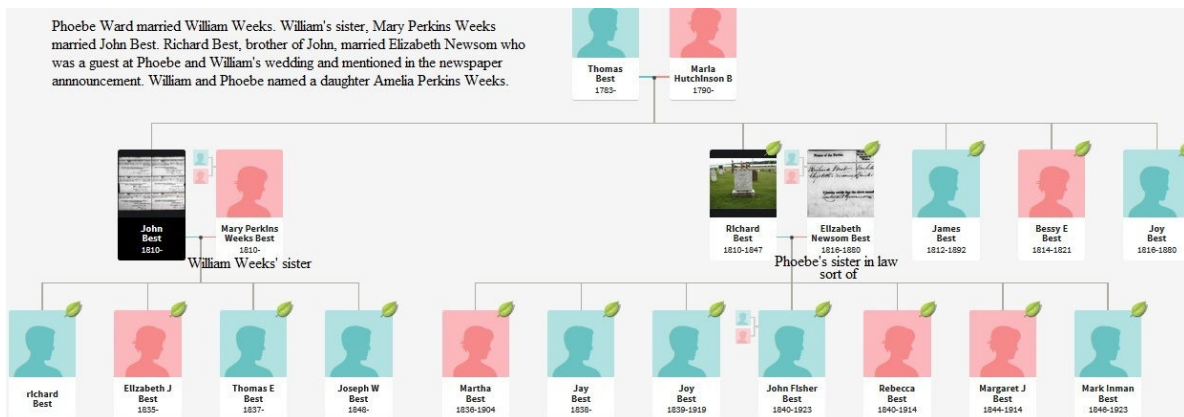

Albert's sister, Phoebe's baptism at age 20.

William Weeks and Phebe Ward were lawfully married after due publication at the house of John Clark (her mother's brother), Tryon, and in the presence of John Clark, Elizabeth Newsom and others on Tuesday February 11th, 1834 (William's sister, Mary Perkins Weeks, m. John Best whose brother, Richard m. Elizabeth Newsom) Note: Since Phoebe was married at her uncle's house it probably means her father had died. I've found no death record for Ebenezer Ward or Peggy Margaret Clark Ward.

Phoebe Clark Ward born 5 July 1809 in Prince Edward Island was Daniel's sister. She married William Weeks 11 Feb. 1834 at the house of John Clark, Tryon, PEI. John was a brother to Phoebe's mother, Margaret Clark who married Ebenezer Ward at Tryon, PEI. The Royal Gazette 17 Oct 1791: Was lately married at Tryon, Mr. Ebenezer Ward of Bedeque, to Miss Peggy Clark, of Tryon.

Phoebe, William, and their children (Mary Jane Clark Weeks, Louisa Weeks, Hannah Marie Weeks, William H Weeks, Amelia Weeks, Sarah Elizabeth Weeks and Joseph Edgar Weeks) immigrated to the U.S. through Detroit, Michigan Feb. 1854 in a wagon. In those days you just went across the border. No big deal.

Daniel and Harriet were living in Michigan in 1846 and again in 1850. Harriet Jr. was born there in 1851. They named a son Edgar in 1860. Did the name Edgar come from the Ward side? Daniel and Harriet also named children Mary Louise and William Cook Ward. Emilia was baptized in Charlottetown by Charles DeWolfe. Charles DeWolfe married Daniel and Harriet in 1840 and they named their first child/son Charles DeWolfe Ward.

Phoebe and her family were living in Hazel Green, Delaware County Iowa in the 1860 census and it's possible she might have taken Albert, Rosamond, Mollie and/or Sarah after Harriet died. Sarah married Alexander Rollo in 1865 and Rosamond married George Edwards in 1868, both in Linn County. Phoebe died in 1873 and is buried in Pleasant Hill Cemetery Delaware County, Iowa. <http://www.findagrave.com/cgi-bin/fg.cgi?page=gr&GRid=32957147> So maybe she wasn't able to keep Albert and he went first to the Evans family and second the John Devlin family. It looks like Albert was in both census that were taken in 1870 about 3 weeks apart. However the census taken the 25th & 26th of July, 1880 is confusing. The enumerator has not made it clear who lived together in which house. I wonder if Albert was living with John McCoy whom he later worked for. See Albert's story for details but it does present the possibility that some of the children lived with Phoebe for a time.

Phoebe's son, Joseph Edgar, tells a bit of their story in his naturalization petition. Edgar's birth doesn't work since he was baptized 22 May 1853 in Charlottetown, PEI. He must have celebrated his birthday on the wrong date most of his life and thought he was born in Ontario. I don't believe they ever lived in Toronto. I don't know their migration route from PEI to Detroit. At that time I would expect a lot of water travel and possibly train travel. The rail road from Chicago reached the Mississippi at Rock Island, ILL 22 Feb. 1854. The Great Western Railway began construction in October 1849 and was completed from Niagara Falls to Windsor, Canada West (Ontario), in January 1854. Windsor is right across the Detroit River from Detroit, Michigan. Joseph doesn't mention water or railroad. Either it was an every day occurrence or they did the whole trip to Iowa by wagon.
